

Alternative Filter Cartridges

Micrafilter manufactures and supplies a wide of range of alternative filter cartridges that are designed to fit competitor housings performing equal to or better than the original. Use of natural materials ensures large void spaces between fibres, meaning lower pressure drops, which results in less energy consumed and reduced running costs.

We have the expertise to blend various grades of glass microfibre, resulting in particulate holding capacities down to 0.01 micron. A single moulded construction with no joins eliminates the need for several wrapped layers and seam welds which have been known to split under high pressure applications. We take pride that our alternative filter cartridges offer certified performance levels to meet stringent and specialist specifications.
