

Height Differences

- There are some height differences across the Evolution Alternative Range.
- The Walker Filtration alternative is smaller across certain models.
- This is because it has been designed with a self centralising bottom end cap.
- However, as it has a wider cylinder dimension this does not affect the level of filtration as the surface area is the same or higher than the original element.